You can register your own hosting package through our site that can be managed by yourself - just the way you like to do it. With our hosting package - the client - is in full control of their website and e-mail accounts. In this way, our clients, are enabled to create, add more and setup their own e-mail accouts under their own domain name.

You can add as many e-mail accounts as and when you need them at no extra cost. Clients therefore do not pay per e-mail account.
